

Message from the CEO

April 20, 2021 marks Databank's 31st anniversary. While it is not a time for celebration as we continue to battle an unprecedented global health crisis, it is still important for us to reflect on the past, and more importantly, to focus on the future.

For the past three decades, Databank has remained committed to helping Ghanaians achieve financial independence. For some this has been helping them invest toward a comfortable retirement, building or purchasing a home, paying for their children's university tuition in full, or having enough funds to start or expand their business. While financial independence differs for all, our focus is to help our clients achieve their financial goals through financial advice and innovative solutions.

Over the years, we have also supported corporations through the management of pension and institutional funds, corporate advisory services such as getting listed on the stock exchange or financing their business with debt or equity. Our Research team has supported, and continues to support, both private and public institutions with the latest insights on the economy and markets, in Ghana and beyond.

31 years is a long time to be in business and during this time we have had our share of ups and downs. Endurance is not easy, and meaningful endurance is even harder.

To all our clients, board members, employees, business partners and friends – I thank you for your continued commitment to Databank. Thank you for being part of Databank's story over the years. We greatly appreciate and value you. To our founders, I remain forever grateful for the vision and boldness you possessed at a time when our industry was non-existent – your legacy stands strong.

On behalf of Databank, I renew our pledge to further strengthen Databank's position in the industry and the country. To remain in the position of a leading investment bank in the coming years will demand innovation, dedication, technology backed solutions and a continued commitment to improving our customer service.

We look forward to Databank continuing to play a leading and lasting role in building the financial wealth of Ghanaians.

Stay safe.

Your Chief Servant,

Kojo Addae-Mensah
